*Work outdoors with young people ...CCC EXAM DEADLINE OCTOBER 7 FOR CREW SUPERVISOR JOBS

Interested in spending your work days in the great outdoors? Want to impact the lives of young men and women? Consider applying for the California Conservation Corps' crew supervisor exam.

The CCC, a state agency, is accepting applications for the exam until October 7. Job bulletins describing the crew supervisor positions, along with exam application forms, are available on the CCC's Web site -- www.ccc.ca.gov -- or by calling toll-free, 1-888-230-6350.

The crew supervisors, or Conservationist 1s as the staff are known, oversee crews of 10-15 young people between the ages of 18 and 23. The CCC, a state agency, has more than 40 locations throughout California where the crew supervisors may be assigned. Their work can include a wide range of natural resources projects or emergency response such as fighting fires and floods. Applications are also being sought for a Conservationist 1 (Energy) exam, for those with energy-related experience.

Those applicants who meet the specified qualifications will be scheduled for oral interviews in December 2002 or January 2003. Experience can include work in organizing, instructing, supervising and evaluating six or more people ages 16 to 25; also, work with labor crews, the building trades, outdoor adventure or service-oriented programs employing young adults.

The current salary range for the Conservationist 1 position is $2324-3584/month; for the Conservationist 1 (Energy), $2982-3584/month.
